In the general appropriation law of March 3, 1869, (14 Stat., 300,) it is provided that the sessions of the Territorial legislative assemblies shall be biennial, and each Territorial legislature shall, at the first session after the passage of this act, make provisions by law for carrying "this act into effect." "The assembly of this Territory adjourned February 18, 1869, before the enactment of this law, and the first session after its passage will convene on the second Monday of January, 1870. The appropriation of $20,000, made for the last fiscal year, was exhausted by the last session, and Congress has made no appropriation for the expenses of the approaching session, to be convened in January next." [NOTE.—“I estimate the cost of the public printing for the year ending June, 1870, higher than ordinary, for the reason that a committee was appointed at the last session of the legislature to revise the laws of the Territory, and report to the coming session. Should the laws be revised, the estimate of $12,000 will not more than cover the cost of printing, at the contract prices. It is hoped that Congress will make an appropriation large enough to meet past deficiencies, that all the indebtedness may be cancelled. The uncertainty of prompt payment has for some time past operated against making purchases and entering into contracts on as favorable terms as otherwise could have been done.” [Signed,] James Scott, Secretary.]

There is no vessel that is less than ten years old remaining upon the survey, and scarcely one which is capable of exposure to the ordinary bufftings of the sea. Each vessel has for a long time been preserved in the performance of such duty as it was fit for by the care and diligence of the hydrographic inspector; but the embarrassments to the operation of the survey, arising from the cause stated, are annually growing to be more difficult to be met. 	[NOTE.—The chief clerk, in his letter, says: "It will be seen that I have increased the estimate of the contingent expenses from $3,000 to $4,000. For the year ending June 30, 1869, I supposed that the savings from the appropriation for former years would enable me to get along without any appropriation, I therefore asked for none for that year; some unexpected expenses came upon me, so						9,000 00	5,500 00 that on the 30th of June, 1869, I was in advance to the government about $1,000. During the present year, from expenses I have already been obliged to incur, I anticipate a similar deficiency; I have therefore increased the estimate to $4,000. The great increase of the business of the court also compels me to ask an addition of $500 to the appropriation for the payment of attorneys, commissioners, &c. As to the estimate for the expenses of the 5th volume of the Reports of the Court, allow me to refer you to the volumes as they are printed and furnished to your department, as exhibiting the character and amount of labor. It would be impossible for the court to get along in its business, or for the departments to know what had been decided in reference to questions arising there almost daily, without these reports. The labor of preparing these volumes has been great, and exclusively and necessarily performed out of office hours; and I hope the necessity of the volumes to the government will, in your estimation, justify the asked for appropriation."] (Signed,) Samuel H. Huntington, chief clerk Court of Claims.

	the United States in this city, where about a dozen night watchmen are employed, they receive $2 75 and $2 85 per diem. I have thought that those here ought to have at least $2 65. The fractional currency counters at this office are ladies. I believe they are employed for a similar purpose at no other office in the country outside of Washington. The Treasurer of the United States has informed me that their returns are a marvel of accuracy. They are held accountable for all errors, and seem to think that, in view of this, and the further fact that their sisters in Washington get $900, they ought to get at least as much. I thought, upon coming here, that the book-keeper and assistant book-keeper did too much work, that, indeed, a third man could divide their labors with them, and then neither do too little. At this time I am sure they ought to be relieved of some duties, or get more pay. The recent action of the Commissioner of Pensions with regard to payments to pensioners by checks in every instance where personal application is not made, has added greatly to the duties of the accounting department here, and my own introduction of a system of entering and filing correspondence, wholly neglected under my predecessors, has made considerable additional work. This last labor I propose assigning to the two book-keepers, in view of the increased pay proposed, and to save the necessity of an additional clerk at $1,200 or $1,500 per annum." Signed, Geo. Our estimate for fuel must necessarily be high, as we are forced to burn pine wood, no other being attainable, and the price thereof ranges from $5 to $10 per cord, in coin. Ordinary labor is scarcely to be obtained here at less than $5 in currency per day, while skilled labor commands much higher prices. I think, that with close management, the amount estimated will be sufficient, but not more than will be absolutely necessary." (Signed,) A. Curry, superintendent. [NOTE.—The superintendent of the San Francisco branch mint, in his letter to the director, says: "This estimate is based upon a careful calculation of necessary expenses, and is only slightly in excess of the amount actually expended by my predecessor during the year past closed. To strictly comply with the mint law, I have appointed a register of deposits and a superintendent of deposit melting; and for the protection of the bullion in the mint, I have found it necessary to increase the number of watchmen, thus considerably increasing the expenditure for wages of workmen. Subjected as we are to the fluctuations in the value of currency, which we are compelled to reduce to a gold valuation, and crowded as we are for want of room in all the operations of this branch, I am unwilling to practise that expensive economy which would reduce my working force below the number required to properly manipulate and protect the bullion with which we are entrusted, and tend to impair the public confidence in this branch, I have therefore made a careful and honest estimate, and have left no margin to be cut away by the Committee on Appropriations." (Signed,) O. H. La Grange, superintendent. The director invites special attention to this explanation.]

This 'available balance' consisted of the charges (levied upon our deposits of bullion) which, prior to July, 1868, were by law available for the incidental and contingent expenses of the office. 	year's appropriation would now be necessary under this head. But inasmuch as the appropriation bill of July 20, 1868, (U. S. Statutes, vol. 15, p. 107,) contains the proviso , "That hereafter all the 'available profits' of U. S. mint and branches shall be covered into the Treasury to be expended only by specific appropriation," it becomes necessary for me to ask that there be added to the amount appropriated for the current year for incidental and contingent expenses and repairs, at least $50,000; thus making an aggregate of $100,000 for this object, which exceeds by $2,500 only the actual expenditures of this office for the fiscal year ending on the 30th June last, under this head." 	numbers of persons and rates of compensation especially authorized by law. The appropriation for the current fiscal year ($3,850) is less by $720 or $120 for each of the six watchmen and laborers than is necessary for payment of the authorized rate of compensation. The deficiency arises, as it is understood, from the appropriation bill as originally reported to the House of Representatives by its Committee on Appropriations, having contained provision for reduction of compensation of watchmen and laborers from $720 to $600 per annum, and the sum proposed to be appropriated contemplated payment of no more than that rate. Before the passage of the bill, however, it was amended by restoring the rate of compensation to $720 per annum, without a corresponding amendment of the amount appropriated for payment, so that there remains to be provided $720 to complete payment to the watchmen and laborers for the current fiscal year, at the rates established by the act by which appropriation for the year was made. The estimate for general purposes, although $5,000 more than was appropriated for the current fiscal year, is for no greater amount than the estimates for previous years. Experience has clearly shown that less than the sum estimated for ($10,000) is insufficient for the general purposes of the building, and it is earnestly hoped that its whole amount will be appropriated. 	[NOTE.—“Six clerks have been employed in this bureau up to the commencement of the present fiscal year, when, owing to the reduced appropriations, the services of four of that number had to be dispensed with. This reduction is found to be too great to enable the bureau to keep up its current work, and the number here asked for, though less than previously employed, is actually required for a proper performance of the clerical work of the bureau. The above will explain the discrepancy between this estimate and the appropriation of last year, together with the fact that the salary of chief of bureau is here included, while it was omitted last year.”]

[Note.—In reference to the last two items, the engineer of the building says: The accommodations for the increased amount of coal used in this building have not kept pace with the extension of the same, and we have been compelled this season to pile the rest of our supply in the yard, exposed to the weather and almost inaccessible to the firemen. In view of this, I would call your attention to the necessity of increasing the capacity of the vault under the courtyard for the stowage of coal for the heating of this building. The present vault, with a capacity of only three hundred tons, can be extended, according to the original design, so as to take in our annual winter supply of six hundred tons. The estimated cost of the work, and repairing the yard, will not, I believe, exceed $3,500. I would also call attention to the dilapidated condition of the shed which covers the fan-room of the heating apparatus, an estimate and design for which was prepared last year by the supervising architect. This improvement was never finished. (Signed,) Aug's Jordan, engineer heating apparatus, Post Office building.]

	SIGNAL OFFICE.
Signal service.....	Signal service of the army, purchase, equipment, and repair of field electric telegraphs, and signal equipments and stores, estimated by the chief signal officer.....					$10,200 00
	In the revision of the estimates of his department, the Secretary of War has reduced this estimate.....					5,200 00
	[NOTE.—The chief signal officer, in his letter to the Secretary of War transmitting this estimate, says: "I respectfully refer, in this connection, to the orders relating to the general equipment of the army, and the use of field electric telegraphs, together with the instructions in this branch of duty at the Military Academy. I invite attention, also, to the fact of its adoption for the general use of the						5,000 00	5,000 00 navy. With the spread throughout the army of the knowledge of the uses of signals and telegraphs, and the supply of posts, requisitions are made upon this office which cannot be left unfilled without detriment to the service. The adoption by the navy of the army plans, renders it especially necessary that the seaboard posts be kept supplied, while the service in the interior demands the equipment of the interior posts." (Signed,) Albert J. Myer, Brevet Brigadier General and Chief Signal Officer.]

They are less than the estimates of last year, as follows, viz: Provisions, $20,680 90; clothing, $79,425; fuel, $456; military stores, $2,000; transportation, &c., $2,000; repairs of barracks, $3,000; contingencies, $5,000. The large decrease in the amount asked for clothing is based upon a supposed unexpended balance to the credit of that appropriation at the close of the present fiscal year, and in provisions by estimating for 1,400 enlisted men instead of 1,500, and placing the cost per ration at twenty-six instead of twenty-eight cents." 26	Watervliet arsenal.....	Carrying out the old wharf to the prescribed wharf-line, and connecting it with the new work, and to complete filling behind new wharf.....					12,000 00
		[NOTE.—The new wharf-line prescribed by the engineer officers in charge of the river improvement lies nearer the channel than the front of the present wharf, and as this old wharf is above the new one, it is essential to extend it so as to form a continuous line parallel with the river channel. It is also necessary to extend it to gain sufficient depth of water, as, in consequence of its being less prominent than the wharf above, the "silt" is constantly deposited in our front. The amount now estimated for will, it is believed, complete the improvement of the river front, securing a fine wharf, 850 feet long, and gaining very valuable space to the government.]
		Removing and replacing present "over-shot" water-wheel by a "turbine".....					2,500 00
		[NOTE.—The "over-shot" wheel is entirely worn out and not fit for repairs, a small "turbine," as proposed, will be the cheapest and best.]

APPENDIX B.

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE, Near Washington, D. C., October 15, 1869.

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith estimates of the sums respectively required (1) to support the hospital during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871; (2) to complete the wall enclosing the original grounds of the institution; and (3) to erect, heat, light, furnish, and fit up, an extension of the hospital edifice, to embrace complete accommodations for one hundred (100) patients, sleeping rooms, and a day room for twenty (20) employés, and separate rooms for tailoring and shoe-making.

The number of patients of all classes under treatment on the 30th day of June, 1868, was..... 329

The number of patients admitted during the year ending June 30, 1869, was..... 166

The whole number treated in the course of the year, was..... 495

The number discharged in the course of the year was—

Recovered.....	72
Improved.....	12
Unimproved.....	9
Died.....	33	126

The number of patients of all classes under treatment on the 30th day of June, 1869, was..... 369

The whole number of patients treated during the year ending June 30, 1868, was..... 432

The "steady increase in the number of admissions," anticipated at the time of submitting corresponding estimates a year ago, has been realized, and sixty-three (63) more patients were treated in the institution during the year ending June 30, 1869, than during the previous year, and forty (40) more were under treatment at the end of the last than at the end of the preceding year. The rate of increase since the beginning of the current year has been greater than before, and the number of patients under treatment to-day is three hundred and eighty-six (386.) The proper authority has given notice that a considerable number of insane men on the Pacific coast, who are or have been in the military or naval service of the country, and are entitled to the benefits of this hospital, will soon be sent to it, and the number of its inmates is likely at an early day to be swelled to four hundred (400) or more. As, however, a balance of a little rising ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of the appropriations for the support of the hospital remained unexpended at the close of the last year, and in view of the steadily increasing productiveness of the cultivated portions of the original grounds of the establishment, and the possession and use by it of the lands for the purchase of which Congress in its liberality has made the appropriation asked for that purpose, I have determined to respectfully recommend you to ask for the same sum for the support of the hospital during the next fiscal year that was asked and granted for the current year.

The wall, nine (9) feet high above the surface of the earth, intended to enclose the original grounds of the hospital, (about 190 acres,) and thus render them an entirely private as well as a wide and diversified theatre for the healthful and agreeable exercise, and for the safe and practicable economical employment, of the patients, will be completed on all sides, except on the river front, by the close of the present season. The wall proper, with the exception just mentioned, is, in fact, already completed, but thirty-three hundred and nineteen (3,319) feet lack the coping of bricks moulded for the purpose, and the "pointing" generally required after the first winter's exposure of new work of the kind. The bricks (about 10,000) necessary to complete the coping have been made and hauled along the line of the wall, ready to be laid. Although much has already been done, considerable more grading near the wall is necessary. About two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) of the appropriations for this work remains unexpended, and will be sufficient to entirely finish the wall already built, to grade the grounds adjacent to it, and to build a few rods of wall on the river side. I think the work can be completed for the amount of the estimates submitted; and when it is finished, the wall will enclose an area of land uniting more diversity and beauty in itself, greater susceptibility of pleasing and useful improvements, commanding finer external views, and capable, with proper cultivation, of yielding a greater variety of productions that sustain human life, and minister to its most innocent and healthful enjoyment, than, as far as my knowledge extends, has ever, in one place or body, been devoted to the relief of any form of disease, and entirely worthy of the national institution for the insane.

The third estimate respectfully submitted is for a proposed extension of the accommodations of the establishment, which has become urgently necessary. This proposition would have been brought forward a year ago, had it not been thought essential to the highest future usefulness of the institution to acquire the lands, for which a considerable appropriation was then asked, and has since been made. It has been thought the duty of this hospital, as it has been the ambition of its conductors, to discharge all the obligations of the general government to the insane. Except in the case of a few private patients, most of the inmates of this institution are discharged either by recovery or death. The number of recent cases admitted will not vary greatly from year to year, except in time of war; but the number of chronic cases has already become large in proportion to the whole number under care, and will probably continue to increase somewhat rapidly for a year or two to come. More acute cases of mental disease were treated in this institution during the last two years of the war than were ever treated in any other one establishment in the same length of time. The proportion of cases that become chronic, or relapse after recovery, is pretty constant, and the hospital is gradually gathering in, under the operation of the law of July 13, 1866, as beneficent as it is just, the chronic insane from all parts of the country, which are the complement of the great number of acute cases under treatment during the late war. The practice of caring for chronic and treating acute cases of insanity in the same establishment, which has here grown naturally out of the situation and offices of this institution, and for which an important preparation is being made by the acquirement and improvement of a considerable area of agricultural land, is in exact accord with the system more recently approved by American experts in the treatment of the insane, after a careful and protracted consideration of the whole subject of the condition, wants, and claims of the chronic insane of the several States. It will thus be seen, that this hospital is in the important and responsible attitude of endeavoring to demonstrate the wisdom, in every view of the subject, of congregating the acute and chronic insane, and of affording, I trust, some practical encouragement to the authorities of the States to persevere in the noble and dutiful enterprise upon which several of them have already entered, of providing for the humane and skilful care of their insane of all classes. Under the circumstances and the operation of the system thus briefly sketched, there are under treatment to-day three hundred and eighty-six (386) patients, and the number is likely to soon reach four hundred (400) or upwards. As shown in the text (pages 21 and 22) and illustrations of the report of the institution for 1859-'60, a copy of which is presented with this communication, the maximum number the present buildings have the capacity to properly accommodate, even with the large proportion of chronic cases now under care, is three hundred and fifty (350.) It thus appears that the institution has now in its custody thirty-six (36) more patients than it really ought to attempt to care for, and the excess of population is likely to be augmented to fifty (50) or more at an early day. It would not be easy to exaggerate the extra cares and dangers attending a much crowded institution for the insane, and the reception of a larger number can be justified only on the ground that the evil is likely to be temporary. If this estimate should receive your approval, and the appropriation be made in time to commence the work in May or June next, the building could not be erected, furnished, and fitted up, ready for occupation, in any less than one year, or before the first of July, 1871, when, in all probability, the institution will be obliged to provide for not less than four hundred and fifty (450) patients, a number that will fill the entire accommodations of the establishment, including the proposed addition.

The plan of the proposed extension contemplates a substantially separate building, with the facility of medical supervision, of heating, and of serving of food, which is afforded by a connection at a convenient point with one of the wings of the main building. It will be well lighted, and its natural ventilation will be the best possible under any circumstances. The stories of the present buildings are twelve (12) and fourteen (14) feet high in the clear. The stories of the wards of the extension will be eleven (11) feet high in the clear. The single dormitories will be seven feet six inches by ten feet (7' 6" by 10') on the floor, and contain eight hundred and sixty-six (866) cubic feet of air, including that occupied by a single bed and a small table. The associated dormitories for twelve (12) patients will be eighteen feet six inches by thirty feet (18' 6" by 30') and will contain sixty-one hundred and five (6,105) cubic feet of air. As the present building presents ample means for the classification and treatment of active mental disease in all its forms and manifestations, whether acute or chronic, the proposed new building is intended to accommodate, for the most part, quiet, old cases, of tidy habits, and it is thought that the space allowed, with the most thorough and effective provision for artificial ventilation when the house is closed in winter, will be ample both for health and comfort. The corridors will be eleven (11) feet wide, and there will be a day-room eighteen feet six inches by thirty feet, (18' 6" by 30') and a bath room, a water closet, and a clothes room, on each floor. The section of the present structure to which the new building will be connected has three (3) stories above a basement, which is high and mostly above ground, and it is proposed to finish, in the first or basement story of the extension, which will be about nine (9) feet high in the clear, two large rooms for making and repairing clothing, and boots and shoes, and dormitories, and a day room for single men employed out of the wards, and to finish and occupy the three (3) upper stories as wards, each to accommodate thirty-four (34) patients, or one hundred and two (102) in all. It is now necessary to have both tailoring and shoemaking, and to lodge a number of out-door hands in the wards, and a separate provision of shops for those needful operations, and dormitories for such employés, will restore considerable valuable room to its legitimate use by the patients, and rid the wards of the trouble and confusion arising from this double use of several of them.

It is thought a wise economy, as well as a duty to the unfortunate men who may occupy the proposed extension, that it should be very substantial, and every way entirely comfortable, but it is also thought admissible that it should be a little plainer in its external aspect than the present buildings, though in entire architectural harmony with them, and somewhat plainer in internal finish, as well as less ample in space. Hence the moderate sum for which it is estimated that the proposed extension can be built, furnished, and fitted up complete. I believe architects are in the habit of adding ten (10) per cent to their "neat" estimates to cover contingencies in building, I have added only five (5) per cent., believing that margin enough for all unexpected outlays.

Earnestly hoping that the reasons I have now given for the estimates submitted herewith will satisfy your judgment that they are needful and reasonable, I have the honor to be, sir, with great respect, your obedient servant,

C. H. NICHOLS,

Superintendent, &c.

APPENDIX C.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION,
Washington, D. C., September 10, 1869.

SIR: I have the honor herewith to submit the following estimate of the appropriation required for the preservation and care of the government collections of natural history, &c., deposited in this institution, for the year ending June 30, 1871..... $10,000

The amount specified (ten thousand dollars) is the same as that asked for last year, and in explanation of the necessity of this appropriation, I beg leave to submit the following memorial in behalf of the Board of Regents of this institution:

"To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

"In behalf of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution, the undersigned beg leave respectfully to submit to your honorable body the following statement, and to solicit such action in regard to it as may be deemed just and proper:

"The act of Congress organizing the institution ordered the erection of a building which should accommodate, on a liberal scale, besides a library and a gallery of art, a museum, consisting of all the specimens of natural history, geology, and art, which then belonged to the government, or which might thereafter come into its possession by exchange or otherwise. Although the majority of the regents did not consider the maintenance of these objects to be in accordance with the intention of Smithson, as inferred from a strict interpretation of the terms of his will, yet, in obedience to the commands of Congress, they proceeded to erect a building of the necessary dimensions, and to take charge of the government collections.

"The erection and maintenance of so large and expensive an edifice, involving an outlay of $450,000, and the charge of the government museum, have proved a grievous burden on the Institution, increasing from year to year, which, had not its effects been counteracted by a judicious management of the funds, would have paralyzed the legitimate operations of the establishment, and frustrated the evident intention of Smithson.

"It is true that Congress, at the time the specimens were transferred to the institution, granted an appropriation of $4,000 for their care and preservation, that being the equivalent of the estimated cost of the maintenance of these collections at the Patent Office, where they had previously been exhibited. But this sum, from the rise in prices and the expansion of the museum by the specimens obtained from about fifty exploring expeditions ordered by Congress, scarcely more than defrays, at the present time, one-third of the annual expense. In this estimate no account is taken of the rent of the part of the building devoted to the museum of the government, which, at a moderate estimate, would be $20,000 per annum.

"Besides the large expenditures which have already been made on the building, at least $50,000 more will be required to finish the large hall in the second story necessary for the full display of the specimens of the government. But the regents do not think it judicious further to embarrass the active operations for several years to come, by devoting a large part of the income to this object, and have, therefore, concluded to allow this room to remain unfinished until other means are provided for completing it.

"It is not by its castellated building, nor by the exhibition of the museum of the government that the institution has achieved its present reputation, nor by the collection and display of material objects of any kind, that it has vindicated the intelligence and good faith of the government in the administration of the trust; it is by its explorations, its researches, its publications, its distribution of specimens, and its exchanges, constituting it an active, living organization, that it has rendered itself favorably known in every part of the civilized world, has made contributions to almost every branch of science, and brought more than ever before into intimate and friendly relations the old and the new worlds.

"A central museum for a complete representation of the natural products of America, with such foreign specimens as may be required for comparison and generalization, is of great importance, particularly as a means of developing and illustrating our industrial resources, as well as of facilitating the study of the relations of our geology, mineralogy, flora and fauna, to those of the old world. But the benefit of such an establishment is principally confined to this country, and does not partake of the cosmopolitan character of an institution such as Smithson intended to found, and therefore ought not to be supported from his bequest.

"The board of regents are confident that, upon a full consideration of the case, your honorable body will grant an adequate support for the collections of the government, and also an appropriation for finishing the repairs of the building, and, eventually, when the financial condition of the country will permit, for the independent maintenance of a national museum.

"It may not be improper, in addition to what has been said, to recall the fact that the Smithsonian Institution has transferred, without cost, to the library of Congress, one of the most valuable and complete collections of the transactions of scientific and learned societies and serial publication, in existence, consisting of at least 50,000 works, which with the annual continuations of the same series, must render Washington a centre of scientific knowledge, and the library itself worthy of the nation; and that it has also presented to government its valuable collection of specimens of art, illustrating the history of engraving from the earliest periods. It is prepared to render a similar service to a national museum, by the exchanges from foreign museums, to which it has been a liberal contributor, and which may be obtained as soon as means are provided for their transportation and accommodation.

"It may also be mentioned, that the Institution has rendered important service to the government, through the scientific investigations it has made in connection with the operations of the different departments, and it is not too much to say, that, through the labors of its officers, it has been the means of saving millions of dollars to the national treasury.

"In conclusion, your memorialists beg leave to represent, on behalf of the Board of Regents, that the annual appropriation of $4,000 is wholly inadequate to the cost of preparing, preserving, and exhibiting the specimens, the actual expenditure for that purpose in 1867 having been over $12,000; and they take the liberty of respectfully urging on your honorable body the expediency of increasing it to $10,000, and that a further sum of $25,000 be appropriated at this session of Congress, towards the completion of the hall required for the government collections.

"And your memorialists will ever pray, &c.

"Secretary Smithsonian Institution."

I have the honor to be, your obedient servant,

APPENDIX D.

MEMORANDUM.

SALARIES OF UNITED STATES ATTORNEYS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,

Warrant Division, November 20, 1869.

SIR: The acts in relation to district attorneys in the Territories are in very great confusion. The provisions for the attorneys are contained in the acts organizing the Territories, and, for their salaries and fees, provide that they shall receive the same as the attorney for some Territory previously organized. As an illustration of the confusion this creates, take the case of New Mexico. The act organizing this Territory, (September 9, 1850, section 16, 9 Statutes, 450,) provides that the district attorney "shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the present Territory of Oregon." Referring to the act organizing the Territory of Oregon, (August 14, 1848, section 10, 9 Statutes, 327,) we find the provision, that the attorney shall receive the same fees and salary as were provided by law for the attorney of the United States for the late Territory of Wisconsin." Referring to the act organizing the Territory of Wisconsin, (April 20, 1836, section 10, 5 Statutes, 14,) we find it provides that the attorney "shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for Michigan Territory." Referring to the act organizing the Territory of Michigan, (January 11, 1805, section 3, 2 Statutes, 309,) we find the provision that the officers for the said Territory * * * shall receive for their services the same compensation as by the ordinance aforesaid, [meaning the ordinance of 1787,] and the laws of the United States, have been provided and established for similar officers in the Indiana Territory." Still further referring back, we find the act organizing the Indiana Territory (May 7, 1800, section 3, 2 Statutes, 59,) says "the officers of the said Territory shall * * * receive for their services the same compensation by the ordinance aforesaid [meaning the ordinance of 1787] and the laws of the United States, have been provided and established for similar officers in the Territory of the United States north-west of the river Ohio." Again referring back, we find the act providing for the government of the Territory northwest of the river Ohio, (August 7, 1789, 1 Statutes, 50,) makes no provision for the salaries of its officers, neither does the ordinance of 1787 (as printed in a note on page 50, of 1 Statutes) contain any such provision. Thus we find that we have apparently no statutory provision fixing the salaries of attorneys of the United States in the Territories. But a careful examination of the Statutes discloses the fact, that by the act of February 27, 1813, (2 Statutes, 806) "authorizing the appointment of additional officers in the respective Territories of the United States," it is provided "that there shall be appointed in the respective Territories of the United States, a person learned in the law, to act as attorney of the United States, who shall, besides the usual fees of office, receive an annual salary of two hundred and fifty dollars." As the Territories of Indiana, (admitted into the Union December 11, 1816, 3 Statutes, 399,) and Michigan, (admitted into the Union January 26, 1837, 5 Statutes, 144,) were Territories at the time this act was passed, its provisions apply to them, and therefore the salaries of all Territorial district attorneys are estimated for at two hundred and fifty dollars, since, either directly or remotely, all acts authorizing them refer to the acts affecting one or other of these Territories. To remedy this defect in the statutes, it is suggested that the following section of an act be passed:

"SEC. —. And be it further enacted. That the annual salaries of all United States attorneys now authorized by law, and such as may hereafter be authorized, unless otherwise specifically provided, shall be two hundred dollars in the States, and two hundred and fifty dollars in the Territories. Provided, that the salary of the United States attorney for the southern district of New York shall remain, as now fixed by law, at six thousand thousand dollars per annum, and the salary of the United States attorney for the district of California shall remain, as now fixed by law, at five hundred dollars per annum."

Respectfully submitted.

J. H. SAVILLE,

Chief of Division, in charge of Estimates.

Hon. GEO. S. BOUTWELL, Secretary.

APPENDIX E.

WAR DEPARTMENT,

Office of the Inspector of the Military Academy,

October 1, 1869.

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith an estimate of the appropriations required for the support of the Military Academy during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871:

Under direction of the Paymaster General.

Additional pay of officers, and pay of instructors, cadets, and musicians.....	$205, 293 20
Commutation of officers' subsistence.....	6, 570 00
Pay in lieu of clothing to officers' servants.....	156 00

Under direction of the Inspector of the Military Academy.

Current and ordinary expenses.....	$64,295 00
Increase and expense of library.....	3,000 00
Annual repairs of gas-pipes, gasometers, and retorts.....	600 00
Furniture for cadets' hospital.....	250 00
Repairs and additions to officers' quarters.....	5,000 00
Fuel for cadets' mess-hall, shops, and laundry.....	4,000 00
Fire-proof building for public offices and archives.....	25,000 00
Rebuilding the north wharf.....	7,000 00
Sewers and drainage.....	10,000 00
Coal house.....	5,000 00
Repairing and opening roads.....	5,000 00
Furniture for soldiers' hospital.....	100 00
Grading, draining, and improving the artillery and cavalry drill-ground.....	2,000 00
Contingencies for superintendent.....	1,000 00
Total.....	344,264 20

These estimates are more than ten thousand dollars in excess of those submitted last year, but the increase is wholly in the items disbursed by the pay department, and is due to the additional number of cadets which the restoration of the yet unreconstructed States to the Union may place in the academy during the coming fiscal year. Upon the other items than those belonging to the pay department, there is a decrease of thirteen thousand dollars from the estimates last presented.

The composition of the estimate for the current and ordinary expenses of the academy is fully exhibited in the detailed statement hereunto appended. (See ante, page 113.) The only new item in said statement is for a printing press, by which the work now sent to private establishments at New York, or executed at West Point by a lithographic press, can be done at less cost and in a more acceptable manner by enlisted men at the post.

The estimate for increase and expense of library is of the usual amount, but one thousand dollars more than has latterly been appropriated. The accumulation of books and other publications to be bound, and the postponement of the purchase of many desirable standard works by reason of the late reduced appropriations, make it very desirable that the amount asked for be now granted.

The usual appropriation, always granted and required in the past, is requested for the annual repairs of gas apparatus and fixtures.

A small amount is asked for to complete the replacement of old, worn-out furniture in the cadet hospital, by furniture of newer and more comfortable patterns.

The customary estimate is made for the repair of officers' quarters, and needed additions to the same.

An addition of one thousand dollars is made to the estimate for fuel for mess-hall, shops, and laundry, on account of the deficiency occasioned by the unusual reduction made in the appropriations granted for the current year. It is earnestly requested that the sum now asked be appropriated.

The fire-proof building for public offices and preservation of archives is an absolute necessity, and has before been explained. The valuable records of the academy have been once destroyed by fire, causing inconvenience and loss, which are felt to the present day. Besides this, the various offices, for want of suitable accommodation, are crowded into section rooms in the philosophical building, in which are all the apparatus and instruments; while the classes in philosophy are deprived of these rooms frequently during the day, obliged to march to this building from the separate one in which they are temporarily accommodated, through heat and wet, with serious interruption to their studies, and great loss of time devoted to recitation, in order to reach the scientific apparatus required for illustration. The sum now asked is designed to complete, and furnish with heating and ventilating facilities, such an attractive and substantial building as its prominent situation and important uses demand. A former appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars has been judiciously expended in preparing the foundation, in erecting the first story, and accumulating materials.

Attention has frequently been called, both by the officers of the academy and Board of Visitors, to the dilapidated condition of the north wharf—a wooden structure thirty years old, upon which all the supplies of the post are landed. Each year adds to the decay, and the repairs which a year or two ago could have been made for five thousand dollars, cannot now be effected under seven thousand dollars, and next year, and every year thereafter, more labor and money will be required than now. Much as the derrick, authorized and provided for two years ago, as a labor and expense-saving machine, is needed, it is not deemed prudent to erect it until the wharf is repaired. This last is an urgent need.

The absence of a system of sewage and drainage, though long felt, was first stated last year, when an estimate of $10,000 was submitted, accompanied by a statement from the post surgeon, exhibiting the sanitary requirements of the case. That estimate is now repeated, and favorable action requested for it. The primitive arrangements, which, despite the many improvements elsewhere adopted, are still in existence at West Point, for want of the means to provide better ones, are clumsy and inadequate, and oft-times offensive, as well as prejudicial to health and injurious to the locality itself.

The want of suitable protection from the weather, especially in winter, for the large supplies of fuel necessarily accumulated each summer, sanctions the estimate now made for providing it. To say nothing of the severe labor of removing from the fuel deep coatings of snow and ice, the damage done to it by such exposure equals at least the yearly value of the sum required in this estimate. The building proposed must of necessity be near the place of consumption; the only available site demands heavy blasting, and a frame building, even if not objectionable on the grounds of danger from fire, earlier decay, and constant need of repairs, would cost nearly as much as the solid stone structure, capable of sustaining the lateral pressure exerted upon it, which it is proposed to erect.

The necessity of greater repairs to the roads than could be put upon them without special provision for such repairs, has now, as in the case of the north wharf, reached a point where further delay involves additional expense. Besides this, it is designed to open a new road to sand and gravel pits, which cannot otherwise be made to supply needed building materials, without the use of costly water transportation and difficult carting up steep roads.

The soldiers' hospital is deficient in some little articles of needed furniture, while other worn-out articles require to be replaced. The item of one hundred dollars inserted in the estimates for this purpose commends itself to favorable action.

The cavalry and artillery drill-ground is of artificial formation, being prepared by blasting off the upper ledges of numerous rocks, by filling in the intermediate spaces, and covering all with new earth. In consequence of long use, deficient drainage, and constant washing away of the soil, the ground has become uneven, and the rocks and boulders in many places exposed, rendering it a dangerous place for the rapid movements made upon it. Accidents are of frequent occurrence, and only a short time ago a person was crippled for life. This statement of facts will, it is believed, sufficiently explain the necessity for the estimate made for the improvement of this drill-ground.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ED. SHRIVER,

Brevet Major General, Inspector.

To the Hon. SECRETARY OF WAR.

APPENDIX F.

REMARKS ON ESTIMATES.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,

Bureau of Ordnance, October 12, 1869.

New nitre depot.—My predecessor in office, in obedience to an order from the Navy Department, dated May 11, 1869, had prepared the following report in regard to the advisability of preparing another building for the storage of nitre, to meet the contingencies which may arise in future, which seems to cover the subject fully.

EXTRACT.

"The war of the rebellion disclosed the great liability to which the Union interest was exposed by relying upon the usual supply of nitre from Hindostan.

"In the first place, the supply was limited to the ordinary consumption, was unequal to the great increase in demand when war arose, and the price was not only augmented, but it was difficult to obtain what was needed in convenient season.

"Under these circumstances, I thought of obtaining nitre from other sources, and initiated the present mode of supply; that is, by separating the nitre combined with soda, and uniting it with potash, which was successfully executed. A depot was subsequently provided, near Malden, and there are now stored there 3,659 tons.

"It seems advisable to make further provisions to complete the plan; for which purpose another depot should be provided, as the present one contains quite as much as it is advisable to accumulate in one place, chiefly because, when the whole stock is brought together, accident or design would dissipate it in an instant, and leave us unprovided. The convenience of communicating with the different powder works is also to be considered. I recommend, therefore, that a site for another depot be chosen, in the interior of the Middle States, and convenient of access by railroad and canal.

"In regard to the character of the building, I am of the opinion that one similar, but larger, than that lately completed by the Light-house Board at the light-house depot, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, for the storage of oil, will be most suitable, and just what is wanted, as it is thoroughly protected from fire. The cost of the site, vault, and buildings for the person in charge of the depot, I estimate will be $75,000."

Five hundred thousand pounds nitre—This item is explained in the preceding article relating to the advisability of building another nitre depot.

Torpedo Corps.—This is a new estimate. The closing operations of the war for the Union developed the usefulness of torpedoes for either attack or defence; and as this has not only become apparent to ourselves, but to foreign governments, who are offering large premiums for the invention of effective and manageable torpedoes, it has been deemed not only advisable but necessary, that we shall take measures to improve upon the knowledge already gained; and to that end, the nucleus of a torpedo corps has been established, and experiments with torpedoes used by the rebels and ourselves, and some others which have lately been designed, will soon be commenced. To fully establish the machinery with suitable facilities for the manufacture of and experimenting with torpedoes, an appropriation of $103,793 is deemed necessary.

APPENDIX K.

OFFICE INDIAN AGENT,
Laputa, Idaho Territory, August 21, 1869.

SIR: I have the honor to state that the appropriations made for the employing of one superintendent of farming, two farmers, two millers, two blacksmiths, one tinner, one gunsmith, one carpenter, and one wagon and plow maker, as per 5th article of treaty of June 11, 1855, is not sufficient, and that it is an absolute impossibility to hire those men for that amount of money. I would earnestly ask that this be modified, so as to allow ten thousand dollars, ($10,000,) instead of the present amount of eight thousand five hundred dollars, ($8,500.)

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. W. WHAM,
2d Lieut. U. S. A., and Indian Agent.

Hon. E. S. PARKER, Com. Indian Affairs.

[Through office Superintendent of Indian Affairs, Boise city, Idaho Territory.]

[INDORSEMENT.]

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT INDIAN AFFAIRS,
Boise City, I. T., August 31, 1869.

Respectfully forwarded, with the recommendation that the increase asked for be authorized. The price of labor is so exorbitant in this country that only the most inferior class can be hired at the rates allowed on the reservations. The price per diem in this section is $2 coin, for ordinary farm hands, which is about one-third more than that paid the employés at Laputa.

DE L. FLOYD-JONES,
Col. U. S. A., Sup. Indian Affairs.

APPENDIX L.

COAST SURVEY OFFICE,
Washington, September 30, 1869.

SIR: I have the honor to submit estimates for continuing the survey of the coast of the United States during the fiscal year 1870-'71.

The estimates for the Atlantic coast do not much exceed those of preceding years. Recent appropriations have been reductions from the estimates so large as seriously to embarrass the operations of the survey. The estimates have been carefully revised, with strict regard to economical considerations, and the thorough efficiency of the service. They are offered with confidence that they will bear minute and rigid scrutiny. The necessity for the addition of twenty-one thousand dollars to the estimate of last year, for the Atlantic coast, arises from the increased outlay which is required to restore the field of operations in the southern sections to a proper working condition.

The augmentation of one hundred thousand dollars in the estimates for the Pacific coast is small in comparison with its rapidly increasing developement in wealth, population, and commerce, which demand a proportionate increase in all the facilities for navigation. It is especially incumbent upon the Coast Survey to make immediate provision for the supply of all the needful charts.

The item for the repairing of vessels is reduced by fifteen thousand dollars from the estimates made for that object last year, in the expectation that some provision will already have been made for the supply of new vessels in the deficiency bill before the estimates now presented can receive the consideration of Congress. The item is, however, greater than the appropriation of last year, on account of the enhanced cost of repairs and the growing age of the vessels.

No estimate is here proposed for the extension of the survey to the coast of Alaska. If it should be thought proper by Congress to direct such an extension, an additional appropriation would be requisite.

All the surveying parties that could be maintained with the appropriation are yet in the field, and will continue work in the northern sections until the severity of the weather makes their transfer expedient for continuing the survey of the southern and Gulf coast. In advance of the receipt of concluding reports for the working season from the field parties, and in explanation also of details of work presented with the estimates of means, I will briefly recite the operations of the present surveying year. The progress of the parties severally has been satisfactory, and has not been interrupted, except in the case of a few parties on the coast of Maine, that suffered delay in consequence of the great storm of the 8th instant, which destroyed the camps. The regular operations of the survey have been continued on the shores of St. Croix river, Maine; in Penobscot bay and the adjacent waters, and on Penobscot river; on Kennebec river; on the upper shores of Casco bay; in the vicinity of Portland; and on the coast near Kennebunkport. The harbors between Mount Desert island and Boston have been specially examined with reference to the compilation of a Coast Pilot; and local examinations have been made to determine questions concerning the light-house service in St. Croix river; in Prospect harbor, Maine; and at Salem harbor, Massachusetts. A party is organized for sounding on the Monomoy shoals. An astronomical party at Cambridge exchanged star signals with a party at Omaha, for determining difference of longitude by the telegraph. On this work as a basis, the geographical positions of Springfield and Mattoon, in the State of Illinois; of Burlington and Des Moines, in Iowa; of Julesburg and Bushnell, in Nebraska; of Ann Arbor, in Michigan; and of Pittsburg, in Pennsylvania, have been accurately determined.

Advantage was taken of the very favorable opportunity presented by the total eclipse of the sun on the 7th of August, to make such precise observations as would be available for correcting the lunar elements. The party under my immediate direction observed at Springfield, Illinois, and three other parties of the Coast Survey made successful observations at Des Moines, Iowa, Shelbyville, Kentucky, and Bristol, Tennessee. The results will doubtless give to the determination of difference of longitude by the method of occultations and eclipses those data which were needed for its perfection. All observations made by the navigator for his position at sea will become more efficient by the improvement in the tables of the moon which will arise from the correction of its elements.

Resuming notice of the work on the coast in geographical order: Progress has been made in the detailed survey for a chart of Narragansett bay; special examinations have been made of the channels near Sandy Hook, and of New York harbor; and the survey has been continued on the coast of New Jersey, near Atlantic city. A special examination has been made of the light-houses, beacons, and buoys, in Chesapeake bay, as a system of aids for navigation. Work has been continued in the survey of the lower estuaries of the Chesapeake; in the main triangulation near Washington city; and in that passing southward from Cape Henry, for which also, a base line has been measured near Norfolk, Virginia; in soundings off the seacoast below Portsmouth, North Carolina; in Pamlico Sound, and on the shores of its branches in the vicinity of Pamlico river; on the bar and channels of Charleston entrance, South Carolina; on the coast of Georgia, at Wilmington river and Skiddaway island; along the inland water passages below the Ogeechee; on Altamaha Sound and its branches; in the water passages between that sound and St. Simon's; on the bar and in the channels leading to Fernandina harbor, Florida; in the Gulf stream off the Florida peninsula; on the Gulf coast at St. Andrew's bay, and westward of Pensacola entrance; on the islands and in the waters of Isle au Breton Sound, Louisiana; and in Corpus Christi bay, Texas.

On the Pacific coast, the survey has been prosecuted in four sites of work on the shores of Santa Barbara channel. The longitude of San Francisco has been determined by the telegraphic method, in connection with Salt Lake City, and other points to the eastward. The series of stations used in this determination have been already mentioned. Work has been continued on the coast of California, near Cape Mendocino; on the coast of Oregon, near Port Orford; on the Columbia River; and in Washington Territory, on the shore of the Straits of Fuca.

The solar eclipse of August last was observed by a party on the Chilkah river, in Alaska, and some observations of value were obtained, though the weather was unfavorable. Taking the opportunity, the observing party determined a number of geographical positions before returning to San Francisco. Charts of all the principal harbors on the coast of Alaska have been compiled from the best information as yet available, and have been issued from the office. In other respects, the drawing and engraving has kept pace with the progress of the field work.
